Tribal Government Liaison
Position Description

Position: Tribal Government Liaison
Classification: Full Time, Exempt
Location: Washington State

Friends and colleagues,

We are excited to share a job announcement for a Tribal Government Liaison at Washington Environmental Council. This position will take lead on developing the Tribal Affairs program and engaging with tribal nations on intersectional environmental issues. I am excited about this coming to fruition and want to recognize Seeding Justice (formerly MRG Foundation) and the Time Immemorial Fund who provided the initial funding to support this important piece of work. We are appreciative of your leadership and support of our vision.

This position has the option of being primarily remote, within Washington state. People who live in or near indigenous communities and tribal centers of government are strongly encouraged to apply. Our teams have access to a variety of online tools and systems that support remote work and supervision. We anticipate this job will involve some travel to in person meetings, once or twice a month.

Below is a short description of the position and we’d greatly appreciate you sharing this opportunity with your networks.

The Tribal Government Liaison is responsible for management of Washington Environmental Council (WEC) and Washington Conservation Voters (WCV)'s operations with regard to Tribal Affairs. This position will be responsible for by developing and implementing a Tribal Affairs program. The position is responsible for building strong statewide relationships with tribal governments, tribal citizens and tribal organizations. This position is responsible for establishing and fostering strong working relationships between the organization and Tribal Nations by developing and implementing an engagement strategy with Washington Tribal Nations, the Affiliated Tribes of Northwest Indians (ATNI), tribal organizations, and indigenous people. The Tribal Government Liaison will be responsible for managing all aspects of the Tribal Affairs program, including acting with primary responsibility for WEC/WCV on all tribal issues, and serving as an expert in appropriate and respectful engagement with Tribal Nations on important climate change, wildfire, and salmon restoration policies. The position will also be responsible, in conjunction with WEC/WCV executive leadership, on negotiations and consultations with tribal nations.
